MAR. 1, 2018 VOLUME 2 ISSUE 3

FOUNDER'S MESSAGE

DEAR AIB SUPPORTERS,

Happy Lunar New Year. While there are so many festivities out there, we took a board and leadership meeting this month, and moved our festivities to March. That way, we can play a part in keeping the party going.

And a great meeting it will be on March 14th, as we feature former Mayor of Monterey Park, Betty Tom Chu, who also was a co-founder of East West Bank. Betty is full of wisdom and energy, and I'm excited for everyone to hear her words. We will also have Eugene Moy of the Chinese Historical Society of Southern California, who will speak on the wonderful work his organization does to promote Chinese American culture.

Thank you to Wells Fargo for hosting this event. We look forward to a module from our ambassadors and friends at WF as we ramp up our member education efforts.

Our charitable works continue and I'm still looking for good organizations to bring into our AIB family. Please reach out to me (marc@mangusfinance.com) or Christine and we will guide you to utilizing your heart and skills towards productive endeavors.

See you on March 14th.

OUR BOARD MEETING WAS A SUCCESS!

Our board meeting on February 13th was a welcome break from our events. We want to thank Antao Chien and H Saga International for hosting us in Diamond Bar. Your kind accommodations, refreshments and Asian treats were much appreciated.

All board members and 3 ambassadors joined us to deepen our partnerships, uncover business opportunities and to oversee the growth of AIB. This year, we are starting our B2B Resource Support, with the goal of helping our members grow their businesses and foster partnerships. We will also be providing educational resources, because we believe the children are our future. Teach them well and...

After our meeting, we moved the party over to Wang Bun Shik Korean restaurant in Diamond Bar.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS:

On January 31st, we supported Phil and Eileen Rapa's showcase of Notre Dame High School in Riverside, where we learned about the innovative learning techniques the private school employs.

On February 1st, Marc Ang viewed Talk About Curing Autism's annual auction event's new location within the Hilton Waterfront in Huntington Beach. Please support TACA as they fight on the frontlines for families first diagnosed with autism.

On February 3rd, Berney Duan and Marc Ang supported the Vineyard of Harvest church and Reverend Kenneth Kwan as they threw an event to feature Ben Lai of the China US Business Association.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS:

On February 3rd, Berney Duan and Marc Ang supported the wonderful Black Chamber of Commerce Inland Empire's annual black expo, with a great lineup of talent and turnout, led by the talented Tammy Martin-Ryles.

On February 5th, Marc Ang supported the Chinese American Citizens Alliance in Orange County. John Gee who led the chapter presented a video on the rich history of Chinese Americans in Washington DC and their unique search for identity and community.

On February 10th, Michael Lew and Marc Ang attended two Lunar New Year festivals: one in Downtown LA, supported by Supervisor Kathryn Barger and many elected officials in LA County. We also joined Eric Chan's San Gabriel celebration, featuring many vendor booths and activities in downtown San Gabriel.

On February 12th, AIB connected Southern California Edison with the great work Julie Diep is doing with OC Autism in Garden Grove. We pride ourselves on connecting great charities with organizations that are supportive in the community.

On February 16th, Carmela Giliberto led a partnership with Asian American Resource Center to bring the great services from the County of San Bernardino to the Catholic Diocese. We are so happy to partner with Linda Nguyen and Christina Tran, who are doing great work in the areas of citizenship test support, mental health awareness and English language tutoring, just some of the many services the county provides.

COMMUNITY PARTNERSHIPS:

On February 21st, Marc Ang supported APALS (Asian Pacific American Legislative Staffers) at a fun event at Barcode in Garden Grove. APALS is bipartisan and includes members from both political parties.

On February 22nd, Marc Ang supported Katie Kwok's wonderful event in Chinatown, celebrating those who work with our Los Angeles judges.

On February 22nd, Chi Ni and Marc Ang supported Andy Tien from Pasadena Federal Credit Union, who opened a student run branch at John Muir High School. Congresswoman Judy Chu spoke and participated in the ribbon cutting. Principal Lawton Gray also gave us a great tour of their campus, which has a rich history of diversity. They were racially integrated even before "integration".

SANTA CLAUS INC.

POLITICAL:

This month, Marc Ang, Randy Callender and Carlo Basail each represent a brand new minority outreach team for the Republican Party. This is one of the first on a local level. We are excited to integrate more Asian Americans in the political process.

CHARITABLE EVENT:

On February 13th, Marc Ang and Christine Callender went to Camp Pendleton to give Valentine's Day gifts, from coffee mugs to cookies to the marines. Led by Cynthia Martinez of Words of Comfort Hope and Promise, a group of about a dozen people gave love and cheer to the troops, many of whom are away from their loved ones. We are so blessed to have this opportunity to show our love to our brave men and women.

CALL TO ACTION

CULTURAL

We are still compiling stories of great Asian role models, whether someone who has achieved great things in the community or made a significant impact. Our Facebook has been celebrating great role models in the figure skating world, as Asian Americans dominate the Winter Olympics in Korea. However, we still want local stories. A great father or mother who has overcome odds to survive in this country makes a great story. Once a month, I hope to feature a great story, so please send your submissions to marc@mangusfinance.com.

CHARITABLE

Please join us on March 16th (postponed due to a required Edison check at Santa Claus headquarters). We return to Santa Claus Inc, to help with Easter packages. Everyone interested in helping out our charities, which are featured on our website, should reach out to marc@mangusfinance.com. There are opportunities to help Santa Claus Inc, Words of Comfort Hope and Promise, Boy Scouts, Talk About Curing Autism and other charities with a lot of year round programs.
