Founder's Message

Marc Ang

Dear AIB Supporters,

August was supposed to be a down month but it ended up busier than ever. The two main highlights were our regular monthly mixer and bringing many pro-business candidates to the Chinese media.

Our August 8 mixer drew in over 80 people in an obscure location in Fontana to visit one of the senior properties for Hope Through Housing Foundation.

Throughout the month, we also introduced various pro-business candidates to our partner Jack Zhou of EDI Media. This gave AIB and the candidates a forum and audience to discuss specific issues, such as increased crime affecting Asian cities of Arcadia, Artesia, Cerritos, etc, through Assembly candidates Burton Brink and Mike Simpenderfer, as well as fair and honest elections through Sec of State candidate Mark Meuser.

This month, we will introduce Orange County to Hope Through Housing on September 12, in one of their locations in Yorba Linda, which aids in the upward societal mobility of younger families.

AUGUST MIXER ON HOPE THROUGH HOUSING

Featuring Gregory Bradbard, CEO of Hope Through Housing, a beautiful property in Fontana and root beer floats courtesy of Dr. Sean Flynn

The solutions to poverty were addressed at our last mixer. So many people talk about doing things to help the poor, but few actually move the needle. That's why Hope Through Housing Foundation is so inspiring to us. So many people in the community joined us in our first ever mixer in Inland Empire.

Our program started off with Gregory Bradbard speaking on the work of HTHF and National CORE, which helps rehabilitate low income residents into the workforce and to lead meaningful lives, achieved through programs such as dietary counseling. After that, local nonprofits joined us such as Aspen and Sandy from Santa Claus Inc. We also had friends, Fred Capinpin, from Makibahagi, a Filipino nonprofit and Regina Santamaria, from the San Bernardino Lincoln Club.

We want to thank our sponsor Wells Fargo and HTHF, who hosted us at their beautiful property and Dr. Sean Flynn, who sponsored our beverages.

A PLATFORM FOR PRO BUSINESS POLITICS

Collaborating with Jack Zhou to feature Mark Meuser on Fair Elections and two crime fighters, Mike Simpenderfer and Burton Brink

Thanks to Jack Zhou, our great partner, who shares our values as business and taxpayer advocates. With election season heating up, we have launched into a series of "Save California" discussions where we discuss current issues with those aspiring for elected office.

Among the issues discussed and a full endorsement from both Jack and James Su (EDI Media Inc CEO), we had our January speaker Mark Meuser, running for Secretary of State, over to the studios to chat about fair and honest elections.

We also had two candidates running for California Assembly, Mike Simpenderfer who covers the Asian cities of Artesia and Cerritos and Burton Brink, who covers most of the West San Gabriel Valley (Arcadia, Rosemead, Monrovia, etc) talking about increased crime and Asian cities being targeted, plus important solutions.

CHARITABLE

Carmela Giliberto organized an amazing Give Back Awards ceremony to help underprivileged children in San Bernardino.

Carmela Giliberto, on our leadership team, helped organize the Give Back awards, where children of the incarcerated and from distressed family backgrounds were given scholarships to pursue their academic dreams. Beyond is a great company that does this work and the CEO Bob Carr was in attendance to give awards. AIB is proud to be a sponsor and we enjoyed this great night that inspired and entertained.

Also this month, we featured Santa Claus Inc/Youth Enrichment Services at our monthly mixer and Hope Through Housing Foundation.

Charity starts at home and reverberates through the community and beyond

CULTURAL

Crazy Rich Asians, 626 Night Market, featuring great film and lots of food

This month, we had a group check out Crazy Rich Asians, and it certainly did not disappoint. With cultural references all through, it inspired us, related to our common experience and entertained us for the two hours. The movie with an all Asian cast hit #1 on the Box Office.

This month was also the month of the 626 Night Market. We went out to celebrate Asian food and desserts in Arcadia and have watched this grow over the years.

Make sure to support both the movie and our various night markets as they promote Asian culture to a larger audience.
