Education Fair and Reception

LAKE FOREST, CA

On August 10, AIB threw yet another successful expo. This time, we even tacked on a reception to help support People Encouraging People (PEP) which is the 501C3 portion of our nonprofit. Over 200 attendees and vendors met each other to check out the exciting and innovative new technologies and services that are available in the education space.

We had everyone from German School to Microsoft, from Kumon to Spirit Christian Academy, all coming together to meet discerning parents who want to take control of their children's future through school choice and parental responsibility.

Following our Expo, we hosted Harvest Smith, former teammate of Michael Jordan and former VP of sales at NBC share with us some of his thoughts and experiences. It was a night of networking with like-minded with great food, and great conversation.

Exclusive Tour of the Los Angeles Times Printing Plant

LOS ANGELES, CA

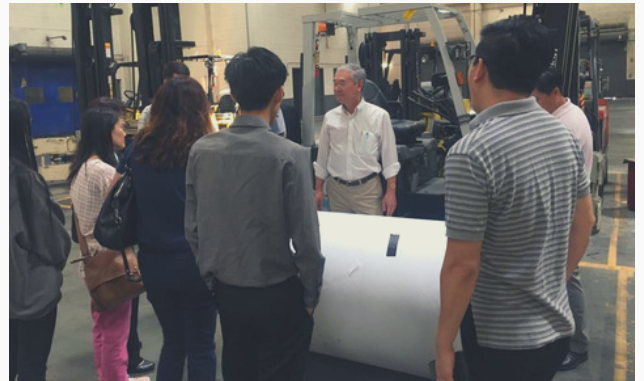

The Los Angeles Times Printing Plant tour on August 23 is one of our many member exclusive tours.

The LA Times has won 41 Pulitzers and has been cornerstone to defining culture and politics for over 100 years. It has covered everything from murders to election results, from controversies to public opinion.

On 2018, the LA Times moved its operations to El Segundo near the LAX Airport and has opened its doors to the public to understand a crucial piece of our history.

It was an education tour that a dozen members showed up for. Members were able to get an insider's look at how the largest newspapers not headquartered out of the east coast prints and distributes the paper for us each day.

In the future, we will be touring NASA Jet Propulsion Lab, the Sriracha Factory, and many more so keep an eye out for the EventBrite invitations and RSVP as soon as you can because spots fill up quickly!

Business Mixer at JobSource

CITY OF INDUSTRY, CA

AIB threw a mixer hosted by Miguel Valencia on August 1 to promote JobSource, a company that focuses on job placement.

Talent within a business can make or break its success because of the cost of onboarding and training. It has also become harder and harder to source this talent.

Anyone looking for a job or looking to fill a requisition is encouraged to reach out to Miguel and his team. To learn more, please visit <https://jobsourceusa.com>

EATING FOR A CAUSE

OCEANSIDE AND TUSTIN, CA

It is no secret that AIB loves to eat! We always offer a complimentary dinner at our proprietary events. Our foodie fundraisers will be the beginning of many. This month we ate poke for Ben Yu who is running for Assembly as well as Mexican food for the 11th Marines Ceremonial Garden. Both events were huge successes and drew in members and the community as well. It was a fun way to engage our communities, highlight local businesses, and help causes that we believe in.

Ben Yu is running for Assembly District 68 which includes Lake Forest where he resides as well as Anaheim, Irvine, Orange, Tustin, and Villa Park. Ben currently serves as President of the Orange Club, an Asian American community that promotes laws for healthy families and business-friendly environments. To learn about his values or to support him, please visit <https://electbenjaminyu.com>

The 11th Marines Ceremonial Garden is a project we are supporting to help build a functional memorial on Camp Pendleton to remember the artillerymen who have paid the ultimate price as well as provide a space for active duty military to complete their day to day activities. COME TO HIM MINISTRIES

LA HABRA, CA

On August 28, AIB did an exclusive members only tour of "Come To Him" ministries hosted by Elizabeth Soto, our ambassador to the Faith Community.

Come to Him is located in La Habra and serves the homeless and marginalized community. They help to rehabilitate people who have gone through personal crisis to lead them into a Christ-centered life by providing housing, food, transportation, and mentorship.

It is the type of organization that AIB prioritizes support for because it is Christian, local, and runs on a slim budget that allows for little overhead cost so funds are used responsibly. In fact, we learned that James Chambers's operation used to be much larger but he realized that he needed to scale down in order to optimize his resources. It is this type of humble discernment that should build trust in investors and volunteers alike.
