

ASIAN INDUSTRY B2B

ENGAGING QUALITY PROFESSIONALS TO IMPACT COMMUNITIES

A SPECIAL THANKS
TO OUR SPONSORS

No On Prop 16 OC Car Rally A Huge Success

On August 22, AIB and Californians For Equal Rights (CFER), the official 2020 NO on Prop 16 group, threw a rally that drew in hundreds of attendees and over 300 cars. Vehicles gathered in unity to denounce affirmative action, which will be on the November ballot. Steve Miller, the OC Chair for CFER was the official event coordinator.

Prop 16 seeks to modify the California Constitution by removing a non-discrimination clause when it comes to college admissions and hiring and promotions in the public sector. This affects any government job, University of California and Cal State Universities. It would repeal Prop 209, instituted in 1996, to bar discrimination of any kind during the selection process.

Speakers included U.S. Civil Rights Commission member and law professor Gail Heriot, CFER/AIB2B honorary co-chair Betty Tom Chu, founder of East West Bank, author and activist Vijay Ingam, Instagram influencer Vince Dao, Orange County Supervisor and former Irvine mayor and assemblyman, Donald Wagner, Mayor of Newport Beach Diane Dixon, City Councilman of Irvine Anthony Kuo, Congressional Candidate and veteran Greg Raths, City Council Candidate of Irvine and community activist John Park, Fountain Valley Council candidate Ted Bui, and many more.

College For All

Have you ever been in a boring classroom, daydreaming of hanging out with your friends, or just doing something more exciting? I think most of us can remember having such an experience at one time or another. Learning should be something we look forward to, and an exercise that we can see the benefits from. That is why College For All (CFA) was created to give students an innovative way towards obtaining a college degree that takes the ordinary way students study and makes it extraordinary!

College For All is an online educational program that utilizes credit by examination (CLEP & DSST exams) to give students a pathway to gain college credit that works best for them. The College Board and the American Council on Education created these standardized college-level exams and also were the same creators of the popular ACT and SAT exams. These college-level exams, when passed, award college credit in subjects such as College Mathematics, English Literature, and Biology. Within these exams students study the typical information found in a semester at a traditional college course. Students can work through the College For All study guide and be ready to test in a new subject at the end of every month. Therefore, when students pass their exam they are immediately awarded transferable college credit. It's that simple! Ten points that make College For All unique:

1. Immersive learning (gain 3-6 credits per month)
2. Get resources that are proven and especially created to make studying successful, e.i. textbooks, informative fun videos, practice exams & quizzes, and personal student advising.
3. College For All students enjoy a remarkable 96% passing rate.
4. A-Z program taking students from 0-120 credits, towards completing their fully accredited degree by finishing their fourth year with our partner university Thomas Edison State University, with in-state tuition rates.

....continued on next page

College For All continued...

5. There are no prerequisites to taking these exams, students ONLY need a state issued picture ID.

6. Subscription based payment model (pause or cancel anytime) $250/mo with scholarship.

7. Flexibility (study anywhere at anytime) *don't be locked down by a classroom schedule

8. Affordable monthly rates allow students to graduate debt free!

9. Community platform available so students can connect with student advisors and fellow students.

10. Passion for our students success in their higher educational goals! Who can benefit from this program? Anyone can do this! In the College For All program there are students who are as young as 14 years old passing these tests, all the way to returning adult students. We believe strongly that anyone can be successful in their higher educational goals if they are willing and they are given the right tools. Students can choose to take individual courses or work to achieve their full bachelor's degree through our program and our partner university Thomas Edison State University.

Degree areas offered:

- Business Administration
- Communications
- Computer Sciences
- English
- Finance
- History
- Liberal Studies
- Mathematics

Learn more at: www.collegeforallusa.com.

Published by Emily McCray

Count Your Blessings

By Analia Anderson

As summer draws to a close and we look back on this past season, we faced many unexpected challenges. Despite the setbacks, hardships, and loss, God was and is working in the midst of chaos. This time out was an opportunity to reflect and count our blessings. How we took for granted the ability to just sit down with a friend and grab coffee or go see the latest blockbuster movie. As quickly as things have changed, God never changes. He's the same yesterday, today and tomorrow. He instructs, corrects, and blesses our obedience.

God loves intimacy with us and the time we spend seeking Him for wisdom and guidance, and just because. Oftentimes we need to be reduced to nothingness and simplicity to appreciate the little things, especially when we're focused on the big things. He tells us, "Be still and know that I am God."—Psalm 46:10. The time we spend with Him is never in vain. He multiplies our seed. He downloads new ideas that we could never imagine. He connects us with people we'd never meet and open doors that our own efforts could not make happen.

These past few months I started journaling again. It's been years, if not decades since I used to spend that early quiet time with God jotting down everything I was grateful for and all my prayers. Then life got in the way and I was too busy to make that time. Social media replaced that writing time with writing posts, depleting me of that creative mental energy. Although some days I only scribble a few things on paper, journaling makes me mindful of my thought life, prayer life, and purpose driven life. While I'm resting in Him, God is working behind the scenes blessing me beyond measure. "But do not forget this one thing, dear friends: With the Lord a day is like a thousand years, and a thousand years are like a day."—2 Peter 3:8.

Make that time with God. Let Him be the first whom you check in with in the morning—not your phone, emails, text messages, or social media. You will find peace and direction for your day so you are not spinning your wheels distracted by everything Satan throws in your path. God will bless you and reward you. "I love them that love me; and those that seek me early shall find me."—Proverbs 8:17

Healthy, Happy

BY SHERILL FRANKLIN

Dbo zpv sfbe uijt? 3 1 14 25 15 21 18 5 1
4 20 8 9 19?

Codes! Did you like them? Were you good at them? I must confess, I was terrible at most puzzles. These are childishly simple, but if I hadn't made them, I'm not sure I could figure them out.

First an important note: when we talk here about weight management, the goal is a new normal for your body. The statement "I don't care about afterwards, I simply want to weigh X lbs for the high school reunion" brings up a different conversation that we won't be addressing this time.

Human beings are composite creatures, the material (body) and the immaterial (mind, spirit...). When we talk about making a change in the body, there's no way to guarantee that the bodily change will be as successful as you want; but we can say with almost complete certainty that it won't be successful at all if the mind's not on board. In fact your mind has to go first.

Many of the frustrating misses in weight management come from not deciding. You see; "I really want to lose weight", "I really need to lose weight", "It's really time I went on a diet" are the equivalent of "I really want to get married", "I really need to leave California", "It's really time I finished my Master's Program". Those are not decisions and they're not going to happen! Please understand, I'm not saying that just making up your mind will make the pounds melt away; that approach has caused far too much misery and frustration. But what I am asserting is that if your mind isn't made up, not much else will be successful.

So at the start of our journey, a decided mind. One that says, there's no letting myself off the hook. This is my goal and I'll find the way to get there. My decision is rock-solid.

Let's call this decided mind "No-nonsense Cop". Now to accompany this guy we need "Kinder, Gentler Cop", because to make it through to your goal, you'll have to refrain from beating yourself up. There will be ups and downs. There'll be the wedding reception where you didn't quite follow the plan; and worse yet, the week when you were a perfect saint and gained two pounds. You'll need to extra kind to yourself those days, so you can keep going.

Interesting, isn't it? We're getting ourselves prepped for success and we haven't even talked about food! But that's all right, because first we want to get inner-you and outer-you on the same page.

Legislative Update With The Lincoln Club Of OC

On Tuesday, August 18, AIB partners with the Lincoln Club of Orange County to provide a legislative update for members.

In attendance were former Senator Bob Huff and Meimei Huff, Hon. Betty Tom Chu, Hon. Peter Amundson, and representatives from Senator Ling Ling Chang's office.

Members of both groups gathered in Fullerton, CA to review the important propositions that would appear on the November 2020 ballot including Prop 15 which would raise taxes on commercial real estate, Prop 16 which would legalize race based discrimination in public institutions including education, employment, and contracting, Prop 20 which would would strength penalties for violent and property crimes, and Prop 22 which would begin gutting AB-5 which ended the gig economy.

Later on this year, we will be releasing a full voter guide for the pros, cons, and explanations for each Proposition.

Pinoy Political

On August 29 in Tustin. AIB2B Founder and President, and event organizer (Director of Outreach for CFER) Marc Ang started his series of invite-only events for key community leaders in specific ethnic and national groups. This first one was for the Filipino American community.

Leaders in the Filipino community including Make California Great conservative activist Rachel Gunther, NAFFAA Southern California Regional Chair Noel Omega, and Candidate for CA-45 and Mission Viejo Mayor Greg Rath attended.

ASIAN INDUSTRY B2B PRESENTS:

AB5: LIES, SEXPLOITATION & MEDIA SUPPRESSION

CARMEL FOSTER

Join our intimate gathering to hear the story of the one citizen testimonial of AB5, a carefully crafted lie, exploiting Carmel Foster, a worker advocate.

Played by the Democratic political machine, she learned about the dark underbelly of Sacramento's bill-making process, when her boyfriend, Assemblyman Phil Ting, used her sincere activist efforts and heart to craft a bill that destroyed livelihoods.

She will reveal all and answer moderated questions. We will also hear from Independents and Democrats who are fighting this job-destroying bill.

SATURDAY, SEPT 12, 2020
5 PM - 9 PM

BRING YOUR OWN DISH 2 SHARE!

RSVP TO GET ADDRESS:

ORANGE COUNTY

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 17
11 AM - 3 PM

555 GARTEL
WALNUT, 92789

Pet Blessing
Petting Zoo
Children's Business Fair
Debates

AIB2B & BLEXIT

Block Party

FOOD, FAMILY, FAITH, FUN

OUR MISSION IS SIMPLE

CHARITABLE

Connecting our members with the most high-integrity charities to perform "random acts of kindness".

CULTURAL

Pushing for fair representation of Asians in print, online, movies and television, ending negative stereotypes.

POLITICAL

Pushing for more Asian Americans in government, furthering our family and pro-business values.

JOIN OUR MOVEMENT TODAY. LEARN MORE AT AIB2B.ORG