"MILLION LOVES" PRODUCERS RECEIVE ETHOS FILM AWARD

SANTA MONICA, CA

AIB2B was proud to bring a crowd to watch the screening of "Million Loves In Me". Members travelled from neighboring counties to watch the movie and to witness a riveting Q&A with producers John Yiu and Kenny Chan and executive producer, stateside editor and longtime member of our organization Conroy Kanter ("Trafficked").

The full write up on this great event was here, as well as John and Kenny's success in the festival circuit: their 219th award overall for this masterpiece which explored mom/daughter dynamics in Asian culture, hoarding, OCD and the media's vilification of certain people to make an example.

A VIP EVENT: AMERICAN MUSIC AWARDS GIFTING SUITE

HOLLYWOOD, CA

The American Music Awards Gifting Suite was a blast. One of our longtime members organizes the event but only VIPs attend and AIB2B brought longtime member Frank Mayor, President of Cinevision Global Inc and movie producer John Liang, who were gifted with bags of goodies. We also supported niche brands from custom sunglasses to health drinks of the Carribean persuasion.

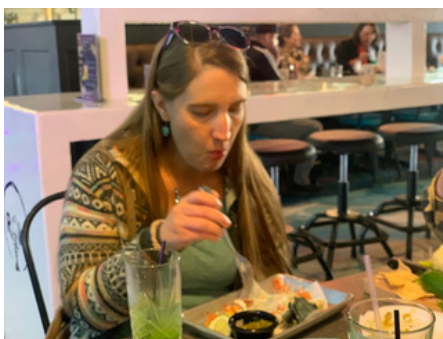

ANOTHER FUN MIXER AT RAW CANTINA

RANCHO CUCAMONGA, CA

AIB2B throws a lunch mixer every 2 months at Raw Cantina. We had a great time mingling and catching up with longtime members like Leonchi Yip who's car export business is doing well, as well as Tony Moon's new ventures in self defense trainings in the community! Join us every 2 months on a Wednesday for lunch as we bring business owners together with great food.

MIXER WITH HOMEMASTERS & ALAN WAPNER

ONTARIO, CA

A well attended mixer thrown by VP Lany Indrawati and ambassador SJ Antonucci featuring Ontario mayor pro tem Alan Wapner.

The current Ontario city council has ushered in an economic boom due to strategic partnerships with the Airport and making the ONT the preferred air hub for residents in east LA, Orange County and Inland Empire.

NAAQS: BEWARE

ENERGY INDEPENDENCE NOW

This year, Asian Industry B2B joined a statewide sign-on letter with other California organizations to urge members of the California Congressional delegation to take steps to reduce energy market volatility at a time of historic inflation. In particular, we addressed the issue of the EPA’s review of National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS), which we are concerned may add to inflation and harm businesses and communities more than it helps.

Every five years, the EPA reviews NAAQS to determine what is an acceptable level of emissions and whether they need to be tightened. However, once

NAAQS are updated, communities must pay for new equipment to improve air quality, which can be extremely costly for taxpayers. There is not much reason to believe that stricter NAAQ Standards are required in order to reduce domestic air pollution. Our air quality is the highest it has been in decades, and data says that US manufacturers have reduced emissions by nearly 80% over the past 50 years. This is cause for celebration and a sign our current regulations are working, not a reason for the government to increase costs and trigger new waves of regulation that will harm consumers and California
